Managers to Confer To-day.

Both sides declined after the closed proceedings to make public what had taken place. But it was learned from a reliable source that the theatrical tangle had been carried a long way toward solution, and that it was believed by both elements that this was the fore-runner of a final settlement. The matter will be taken up at a meeting of the managerial body to be called to-day by President Harris, and a statement from this body which may lead to peace is expected. The producers also will have presented to their formal notice by L. Lawrence Weber, their secretary, the letter which the actors seen Friday embodying their resolutions. The managers, who herotofore have refused to meet a joint committee from the actors at all, will confer with them again to-

Both sides had been led to adopt an o some extent experienced the ships of walkouts. No general strike had been officially ordered either by the Actors' Equity Association or the American Federation of Labor, of which American rederation of Lacor, of which it is now a member. However, players acting on their individual responsibility had refused in large numbers to accept the contract offered by the managers in lieu of that demanded by the A. E. A., and in order to stand by their organization had left the companies for which they were engaged. hey were engaged.

According to Mr. Gillmore, the num-ber of such unofficial "strikers" during the past month has exceeded 200 in New York city alone, with many more n the rest of the country. A prominent nstance was that of Robert McQuarrie eading man for Grace George, who opened her season at Asbury Park last

He played opposite Miss George at the New Jersey resort last night.

H. C. Browne Quits.

Another instance is that of Harry C. Browne, a member of the executive council of the Equity. Engaged for a role in a road company of "Oh, My Dear," the Comestock & Gest musical Dear," the Comestock & Gest musical comedy success at the Princess Theatre last season, he was offered the man-agers' contract. He held out for the Equity arrangement, and finally left the company on his own initiative about a month ago. Eventually it was said the management offered him the Equity con-tract, but by that time he had accepted a position with a movie company.

Many of the actors, however, were not so fortunate, and were in bad financial circumstances during their self chosen idleness. Still they stuck to their guns, sometimes as many as six in one company informing the actors union headquarters that they had walked out. One road company of a recent Broadway success was organized with a cast composed entirely of non-Equity mem-bers by a manager who determined to adopt drastic measures. It was re ported, however, that after one rehear sal his stage director informed the man nger that his non-union players were impossible from a histrionic standpoint, and the plan for a tour was abandoned As an example of the growing suppor from the leading members of their pro ession which the actors were obtaining in their movement against the man-agers, the A. E. A. yesterday made pub-lic a letter from E. H. Sothern to Francis Wilson, president of the actors' body.

Sothern Supports Actors.

The eminent Shakesperian interpre-ter, writing from his home at Litchfield Conn., on Friday on behalf of himself and Julia Marlowe, his wife, expressed approval of the actors' stand and com-mended their union with the A. F. L. His letter follows:

"At this crisis in the existence of the Actors Equity Association, Mrs. Sothern and I wish to express our sympathy with your request, that the managers should consent to arbitration in the question of payment for extra holiday matinees. We are sorry that it becomes ecessary to adopt extreme measures to enforce continued recognition of the Equity Association and we wish that the managers could have seen their way to cooperate with the association in all matters concerning the welfare of the

"However, since pressure appears to be necessary, we believe that union with the American Pederation of Labor is a proper and dignified way of procuring authority for your plea for equity and fair dealing, a result which surely will be to the advantage of both actor and manager."

STAR BILL MAKES HISTORY AT PALACE

Musical Playlet and Series of Fetching Numbers Presented to Public.

The Palace is out to make vaudeville ilstory this week with a bill of such all around superiority that it is superior to the very lyrics of Walter J. Kingsley, nost laureate of the Palace, even when he is turning them out in his free verse overalls. A musical playlet; a girl with music revue in which the demoiselles hit you somewhere between the ears and the eyes with songs and gowns; a dancing act, a monologist, a female impersonator and a navy jazz band set such a standard of the real class that Walter himself, fainting from the task to simply enumerating them in his weekly bulletin as though they were so many medicines.

John Hyams and Leila McIntyre head the list of Walter's tonics in "Maybloom," by Frank Stammers, which lives up to its caption of "a model playlet" with lively lines, mellifluous melo-dies, capable staging and the dancing numbers that are inevitable in vaudeville—for practically every variety team that gets anywhere travels on its feet. Mr. Hyams has an unforced comedy method that skims over the footlights, and Miss McIntyre, though she is forced to speak and sing babyish prattle, dotally with such restricts. it with such restraint that one feels no inclination to apply a little TNT to her role. The pair could readily be en-tered in any heel and toe competition in he country.

Gus Edwards makes his farewell appearance in the two-a-day, just like Sarah Bernhardt. Prior to producing and appearing in a new musical comedy All the other members of Miss George's repertoirs company except Mr. Mc-Quarrie were engaged by William A. Brady early this spring under the standard contract for which the A. E. A stipulated. Mr. McQuarrie asked for an equity contract after the middle of July—after the date, that is, when the A. E. A. joined the American Federation of Labor and thereby strengthened their cause in case of a strike.

Mr. Brady instead, it is reported, offered him the contract which the managers had agreed among themselves to it appears that his voice has gone dry along with the rest of the country. Clifton Crawford does his single, stories, dances and songs which tured the audience yesterday, and the Marmein Sisters and David Schooler also held a victory celebration with a dancing and plane act that was as un dancing and plane act that was as unusual as some of the metaphers in Goodfellow Kingsley's poetry pastels.

Since this programme is intended to be a de luxe issue along standard lines, naturally it wouldn't be complete without an imitator of famous stars and a female impersonator, and Venita Gould and Herbert Clifton are the people's choice. And there is the Atlantic Fleet Jazz Band, led by Nat Nazarro, which is such a tumuit that Walter can't describe it—and every one knows that Walter is the High Priest of Jazz.
